

Instructions to Authors

European Journal of Psychological Assessment

The European Journal of Psychological Assessment publishes papers on all domains of psychological assessment as well as on the assessment process, provided they have not been submitted for publication elsewhere. Of special interest are papers reporting the construction of new measures or a considerable advancement of an existing measure. Papers published are original and preferably empirical studies. Review papers and case studies will also be considered if they result in innovative research questions in assessment and decision-making. The Journal especially welcomes papers in which the data have been sampled across two or more countries and – if applicable – with different methods (e.g., questionnaire, interview, observation, performance). Test reviews will not be considered. Papers that propose or discuss alternative measurement models for existing scales should also discuss and preferably demonstrate the consequences for the construct and criterion validity of the scales. Papers on psychometric methods will be considered only if they have a clear bearing on assessment research or practice. Papers presenting the psychometric properties of a translated measure need to add to the existing literature, preferably by providing new validity evidence. Otherwise such papers will most likely be rejected. Manuscripts that go into the review process will be subject to masked peer review.

The Journal appears six times a year (starting 2017).

European Journal of Psychological Assessment* publishes the following types of articles

Original Articles, Brief Reports, and Multistudy Reports.

Types and Length of Manuscripts

Original Articles refer to papers that are in line with the goals mentioned above.

The difference to Brief Reports (see below) is that Original Articles provide a more comprehensive picture of the research question. They may exceed neither 22 manuscript pages (double-spaced, pitch 12) nor 5,000 words, including figures, tables, and references. Please note that electronic supplementary material (ESM) is not included in the word count.

Brief Reports have the function to communicate specific research findings that focus a specific aspect of a measure, e.g., factorial validity. They should not exceed 2,500 words (11 manuscript pages) including tables, figures, and references.

Please note that electronic supplementary material (ESM) is not included in the word count.

Multistudy Reports are similar to Original Articles but include more than one study. This means in order to investigate the research question more than one study using independent data sets was conducted and is reported. They should not exceed 7,500 words (33 manuscript pages) including tables, figures, and references. Papers exceeding the limits will immediately be rejected. All paper types should normally be divided into Summary (not exceeding 200 words), Keywords (up to five), Introduction, Materials and Methods, Results, Discussion, Acknowledgments (optional), and References. Please note that electronic supplementary material (ESM) is not included in the word count.

Manuscript Preparation

Language

All contributions must be in English. It is recommended that authors who are not native speakers of English have their manuscripts checked by a native-speaker colleague before submission.

Manuscripts

Authors should follow the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.) for general style and layout. Please arrange and type manuscripts accordingly. Nonstandard abbreviations should be defined in the text upon first use. Footnotes should generally be avoided. All manuscripts should be submitted online at <http://www.editorialmanager.com/ejpa>, including electronic supplementary material (ESM). Please follow the online instructions for submission. Should you have any technical queries regarding this process, please contact Juliane Munson, Hogrefe Publishing (E-mail juliane.munson@hogrefe.com, Tel. +49 551 99950-422, Fax +49 551 99950-425).

Please direct any editorial questions to the editorial office:

E-mail ejpaeditor@gmail.com

The title page should, in addition to the title, contain the name and complete address of the corresponding author and names and affiliations of all authors. The text should be written double-spaced with a margin of 2.5 cm (1 inch) on all sides.

Statistical and Mathematical Copy

Abbreviations and styling of statistical and mathematical symbols, Greek letters, etc., as well as spacing, alignment, punctuation, equations in text, displayed equations, and tabular presentation or mathematical copy, should follow the Publication Manual of the APA (Sections 4.41–4.49).

Figures and Tables

Figures and tables should be numbered using Arabic numerals. The number of figures and tables should be kept to a minimum and only be included to facilitate understanding of the text. The same information should not appear in both a figure and a table. Each table and figure must be cited in the text and should be accompanied by a legend on a separate sheet. Please note that online submission via the Editorial Manager allows text, figures, and tables to be submitted as separate files. Figures must be supplied in a form suitable for reproduction: preferably high-resolution bitmaps (e.g., jpg, 300 dpi) or as vector graphics files. Figures will normally be reproduced in black and white only. While it is possible to reproduce color illustrations, authors are reminded that they will be invoiced for the extra costs involved.

Electronic Supplementary Material (ESM)

May be files that were used to carry out the research (such as datasets) or additional items that are not essential for inclusion in the full text but would nevertheless benefit the reader. Being electronic, ESM can also include items that cannot, at this time, be produced in print form. ESM will be published online as received from the author(s) without any conversion, testing, or reformatting. They will not be checked for typographical errors or functionality. The responsibility for the content and functionality remains entirely with the author(s). Hogrefe Publishing does not provide technical support for the creation or viewing of the supplementary files. If necessary, authors should seek the assistance of their local IT department. Like the manuscript, ESM should be original and not previously published. If previously published, it must be submitted with the necessary permissions. Note that the ESM files, just like the article itself, are permanent records and may not be altered once they have been published online.

Submission of ESM

ESM files will be subjected to peer review along with the article itself. The number of ESM files you submit should be limited to 10. The file size should be kept as small as possible, not exceeding 10 MB in total. All file formats are accepted with the exception of executable files (e.g., .exe, .com, or .msi). Commonly used file formats that are accessible by most readers are preferred. Following the online instructions, submit the ESM files in a single zip file separate from the other files that are part of your submission.

Citation in manuscript

All ESM files must be referred to with in-text citations (as for tables, figures, and appendices) and should be numbered in the order in which they are cited in the text. Follow the example:

For more information, listen to the audio file in Electronic Supplementary Material 1.

or: (listen to the audio file in Electronic Supplementary Material 1) or: (the audio file is provided in Electronic Supplementary Material 1)

If appropriate, you may combine several ESM elements into a single file. For example:

See Tables 1–3 in Electronic Supplementary Material 1.

Include a section headed “Electronic Supplementary Material” at the end of your article before the reference section. List all files in the order in which they are cited in the text. Provide a title for each ESM file along with the file name. Optionally, you may also provide a short description for each file (max. 20 words). Follow the example:

ESM 1. Audio file (.mp3). (= title and file name)

This audio file contains utterances of the study participants. (= description of file)

ESM 1. Tables 1–3 (.xlsx). (= title and file name)

The tables show additional p-values, weather variables, and demographic characteristics.

Make sure that the file names listed here match the names of the submitted files. Please note that only the title and the description will appear in the article; the file name will not. It is for reference purposes only.

References

References must include all and only works cited in the text and are to be arranged alphabetically. Works cited in the text within the same parentheses should be listed alphabetically. APA style is to be used for text citations and the reference list throughout (for details, see Publication Manual of the APA, 6th edition).

Offprints

The corresponding author of each published article will receive free online access to the published version of record when the article is first released online. The author may download the PDF of the published version of record. It is provided for the author’s personal use, including for sharing with coauthors (see also “Guidelines on sharing and use of articles in Hogrefe journals” on the journal’s web page at www.hogrefe.com/j/jpa).

Publication ethics

The journal and its editors adhere to, and expect its authors to adhere to, the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) standards (<http://publicationethics.org>).

Copyright Agreement

By submitting an article, the author confirms and guarantees on behalf of him-/herself and any co-authors that the manuscript has not been submitted or published elsewhere, and that he or she holds all copyright in and titles to the submitted contribution, including any figures, photographs, line drawings, plans, maps, sketches, and tables, and that the article and its contents do not infringe in any way on the rights of third parties. The author indemnifies and holds harmless the publisher from any third-party claims.

The author agrees, upon acceptance of the article for publication, to transfer to the publisher the exclusive right to reproduce and distribute the article and its contents, both physically and in nonphysical, electronic, or other form, in the journal to which it has been submitted and in other independent publications, with no limitations on the number of copies or on the form or the extent of distribution. These rights are transferred for the duration of copyright as defined by international law. Furthermore, the author transfers to the publisher the following exclusive rights to the article and its contents:

1. The rights to produce advance copies, reprints, or offprints of the article, in full or in part, to undertake or allow translations into other languages, to distribute other forms or modified versions of the article, and to produce and distribute summaries or abstracts.
2. The rights to microfilm and microfiche editions or similar, to the use of the article and its contents in videotext, teletext, and similar systems, to recordings or reproduction using other media, digital or analog, including electronic, magnetic, and optical media, and in multimedia form, as well as for public broadcasting in radio, television, or other forms of broadcast.
3. The rights to store the article and its content in machine-readable or electronic form on all media (such as computer disks, compact disks, magnetic tape), to store the article and its contents in online databases belonging to the publisher or third parties for viewing or downloading by third parties, and to present or reproduce the article or its contents on visual display screens, monitors, and similar devices, either directly or via data transmission.
4. The rights to reproduce and distribute the article and its contents by all other means, including photo-mechanical and similar processes (such as photocopying or facsimile), and as part of so-called document delivery services.
5. The right to transfer any or all rights mentioned in this agreement, as well as rights retained by the relevant copyright clearing centers, including royalty rights to third parties.

Online Rights for Journal Articles

Guidelines on authors' rights to archive electronic versions of their manuscripts online are given in the document "Guidelines on sharing and use of articles in Hogrefe journals" on the journal's web page at www.hogrefe.com/j/jpa.
